

Cagliari, September 15th 2011

Tiscali announces that, today, there was a meeting with trade unions. The objective of the meeting was to provide an update on the company strategy and present a plan for the rationalization of operating costs, among them a temporary reduction in labor costs for about 7 million.

Luca Scano, General Manager of Tiscali Italy has added "As part of the commercial relaunch of the company, we plan to reduce operating costs in order to support the maintenance of competitive position, growth and innovation. In this context, we expect to reduce also the cost of labor, a choice we intend to carry on in full cooperation with trade union representatives. "
