- Article 10 -

Management of the Company

The management of the Company is entrusted to a Board of Directors made up of a minimum of 3 and a maximum of 9 members, as established by the Shareholders' Meeting, ensuring a balance between genders as per current legislation.

Where the number of members of the Board of Directors is less than the maximum permitted, the Shareholders' Meeting may increase the number during the period of office. The new members are appointed at the ordinary Shareholders' Meeting with the list voting system described in the following article 11. The terms of office of Directors appointed in this way shall expire at the same time as those in office when they were appointed.

- Article 11 -

Board of Directors

The Board of Directors takes steps to appoint a Chairman and possibly a Deputy Chairman, choosing them from amongst its members, if the shareholders' meeting has not already done so. The Directors remain in office for a maximum period of three financial years, their term or office shall expire on the date of the Shareholders' Meeting called for approving the financial statements related to the last financial year of their term in office and they may be re-appointed.

Before the appointment of the Board of Directors, the Shareholders' Meeting establishes the number of the members and the duration of their offices, which may be shorter than three financial years.

The Directors are appointed by the meeting on the basis of lists presented by the shareholders. Each list may contain the names of the candidates up to a maximum number of Directors provided by these Articles of Association listed by means of consecutive number.

Shareholders entitled to present lists shall be those who, alone or together with other shareholders, own, at the time of presentation of the lists, a shareholding at least equal to that established by CONSOB pursuant to article 147-ter, paragraph 1 of the Consolidated Law of Finance as subsequently amended, and pursuant to the further provisions of applicable legislation, as it will be indicated in the call notice.

Each shareholder may in any case present (or concur in presenting) and vote a single list (specifying that, for the purposes of the present article, the term "shareholder" jointly means the shareholder him/herself and the natural and legal persons who control, are controlled by or otherwise are subject to common control with the shareholder in question), also through a third party or through trust companies. Any support granted and votes cast in violation of this prohibition shall not be attributable to any list.

Each candidate may be present in only one list or be subject to ineligibility.

The lists presented by the shareholders must be deposited, as will also be indicated in the notice of calling, at the Company's registered offices by the twenty-fifth day prior to the date of the meeting called to resolve on the appointment of the Board members.

Each list must be accompanied by the information required by applicable legislation and indicate the identity of the shareholders who have presented the same and the total investment percentage owned. In-depth information on the personal and professional characteristics of the candidates must be provided at the bottom of the list presented by the shareholders, or attached to the same. The declarations by means of which the individual candidates accept their candidature and declare, at their own liability, the inexistence of causes of ineligibility or incompatibility as well as the existence of the requisites of good standing and professionalism prescribed for the office by applicable legislation and the Articles of Association, and any possession of the independence requisites established by current legislation, must be filed together with each list.

Each list must indicate a number of candidates who present the independence requisites established by applicable legislation in accordance therewith.

Each list must present a number of candidates belonging to the gender represented the least equal to the minimum number required by current legislation.

Lists presented without observing the above instructions, shall be considered as not presented.

The election of Directors proceeds as follows:

a.1) following the outcome of the voting procedure, the votes obtained by each list will be subsequently divided by one, two, three, four and so on until the number of the Directors to be elected is reached. The ratios so obtained will be granted progressively to the candidates of each list in the order in which they appear in the list itself.

Candidates, listed in a decreasing order on the basis of the ratios obtained, who have obtained the highest ratios, will be elected, it being in any case understood that the candidate at the top of the minority list will be appointed director, namely the list that obtained the majority of votes from among those duly submitted and voted for and which is not connected - even indirectly - with the members who submitted or voted for the list that came first by number of votes.

If an individual who on the basis of the regulations in force turns out to be linked to one or more shareholders who have submitted or voted for the list which comes first by number of votes, has voted for a minority list, the existence of this link becomes important only if the vote has been decisive in the election of the Director from the minority lists. In each case the legislation and regulations at the time in force shall apply.

In case of equality of ratios for the last Director to be elected, the one from the list which has obtained the majority of the votes or the eldest, in case of a tie vote, will be chosen. If, at the end of the voting procedure, Directors, meeting the independence requirements or meeting the gender balance requirements are not elected in sufficient numbers, the candidate elected with the lowest ratio who does not meet the independence requirements or the candidate with the lowest ratio whose election would result in a gender imbalance, shall respectively be excluded in the first and second case. The excluded candidates shall be replaced by the next candidates in the ranking, whose election would meet the provisions related to the independence requirements and the gender balance requirements.

This procedure shall be repeated until the number of Directors to be elected is reached. In the event that, having adopted the criteria set out above, it is not possible to reach the number of Directors to be appointed, the Shareholders' Meeting shall appoint the missing Directors immediately by way of a resolution adopted by simple majority upon recommendation of the members in attendance.

a.2) If only one list is presented, all the directors shall be chosen, in numerical order, only from the submitted list, provided that it obtains a majority of the votes. If, after following the above procedure, not enough Directors are appointed who meet the independence requirements, or satisfy the gender balance criteria, the Shareholders' Meeting shall proceed, in the first case, to exclude the candidate elected with the lowest ratio who does not meet the independence requirements and, in the second case, to exclude the candidate with the lowest ratio whose election would result in a failure to meet the gender balance criteria; after the above exclusions, the Meeting shall forthwith appoint the missing Directors by simple majority resolution upon recommendation of the members in attendance.

b) if, as per the aforementioned appointment procedure, at least two members in possession of the independence requisites established by applicable legislation are not elected, the last of those elected taken from the list which has obtained the highest number of votes expressed by the shareholders after the first and which is not connected in any way, not even indirectly, with the shareholders who have presented or voted for this latter list shall have to be replaced by the first candidate listed subsequently on this list who has these requisites and, if following this replacement a member in possession of the independence requisites established by the applicable legislation still has to be elected, the last of those elected not in possession of these requisites taken from the list which has obtained the highest number of votes shall have to be replaced by the first candidate listed subsequently on this list who has these requisites;

c) if the Board of Directors elected as above does not permit the observance of the balance between genders envisaged by current legislation, the last members elected of the more represented gender, of the first list by number of votes cast by the shareholders, fall from office in the number necessary to ensure the observance of the requirement and are replaced by the first candidates not elected on the same list of the gender represented the least. In the absence of candidates of the less represented gender on the first list by number of votes cast by shareholders in a number sufficient to go ahead with replacement, the aforementioned criteria will apply to the successive lists progressively voted for the most from which the elected candidates have been taken. If, applying the above criteria, it is not however possible to identify suitable replacements, the shareholders' meeting supplements the body with the legal majorities, ensuring the satisfaction of the requirement of the balance between genders envisaged by current legislation;

d) the list voting appointment method envisaged above is applied in the sole case of complete renewal of the Directors; with regard to the appointment of Directors not appointed for any reason in accordance with the above procedure, the shareholders' meeting resolves with the legal majority in observance of the legislative requirements regarding gender representation;

this requisite also applies to co-opting carried out by the same Board of Directors as per applicable legislation.

If, due to resignation or for other reasons, more than half of the Directors appointed by the Shareholders' meeting fall from office, the entire Board shall be understood to have fallen and the shareholders' meeting must be called immediately to re-appoint all the Directors pursuant to the voting list system provided for by this article. The Directors who remain in office may in the meantime perform the activities in the ordinary course of business.

- Article 12 -

The Board of Statutory Auditors is made up of three Statutory Auditors and two Alternate Auditors ensuring the balance between genders as per current legislation. The Statutory Auditors remain in office for a three-year period and may be re-appointed. The fall from office of the Statutory Auditors due to expiry of the term only becomes effective when the Board has been re-established. Pursuant to Article 1.2, letters b) and c) of the regulations pursuant to Italian Minister of Justice Decree No. 162 dated 30 March 2000, the sectors of activities and the matters pertaining to telecommunications, electronic communications in general, media, software and IT activities, as well as matters pertaining to private and administrative law disciplines, economic disciplines and those relating to the business organisation, are considered strictly pertinent to that of the Company.

Board of Statutory Auditors' meetings may also be held with the aid of telecommunications mediums, in observance of the formalities as per Article 12 (Calling and holding of Board Meetings) of these Articles of Association.

The shareholders' meeting which appoints the Statutory Auditors and the Chairman of the Board of Statutory Auditors establishes the emolument due to the same. The appointment of the Board of Statutory Auditors takes place on the basis of lists presented by the shareholders, in which five candidates must be indicated, three for the office of Statutory Auditor and two for the office of Alternate Auditor, listed by means of a consecutive number, in order of professional seniority and in observance of current legislation regarding balance between genders.

Each shareholder may submit, or jointly submit, one list only, even if via third parties or through trust companies. Each candidate may be present on one list only or be disqualified.

Shareholders are only entitled to present lists if, alone or together with other shareholders, they represent at least the percentage of the shares with the right to vote during ordinary shareholders' meetings envisaged by applicable legislation, which shall be indicated in the notice for the calling of the meeting. The lists presented by the shareholders must be deposited, as will also be indicated in the notice of calling, at the Company's registered offices by the twenty-fifth day prior to the date of the meeting called to resolve on the appointment of the members of the Board of Statutory Auditors. If, at the expiry of the aforementioned deadline, just one list has been presented, or only lists presented by shareholders who are connected as per the applicable legislation, lists can be presented up to the third day after this date, and the investment percentage envisaged for the presentation of the lists is reduced by half.

Each list shall have to be accompanied by the information required by applicable legislation and indicate the identity of the shareholders who have presented the same, the total investment percentage owned and a certificate which proves the ownership of said investment, as well as a declaration of the shareholders other than those who hold, also jointly, a relative controlling or majority interest, bearing witness to the absence of the connecting relationships with the latter as envisaged by applicable legislation.

In-depth information on the personal and professional characteristics of the candidates must be provided at the bottom of the list presented by the shareholders, or attached to the same. The declarations by means of which the individual candidates accept their candidature and declare, at their own liability, the inexistence of causes of ineligibility or incompatibility as well as the existence of the requisites of good standing and professionalism prescribed for the office by applicable legislation and the Articles of Association, must be filed together with each list.

Lists presented without observing the above instructions, shall be considered as not presented.

Each shareholder may vote for one list only, even if via third parties or through trust companies.

Those who cover the role of Statutory Auditor in five listed companies cannot undertake the office of Auditor in the Company. The Statutory Auditors can undertake other management and audit appointments within the limits established by applicable legislation.

At least one of the Statutory Auditors and at least one Alternate Auditor must be chosen from those listed on the official register of auditors with at least three years' experience in the auditing of accounts. Auditors failing to meet the aforementioned condition must have a total of at least three years' experience in specific company purpose-related duties. Specific company purpose-related duties are understood to be all those referable to the corporate purpose as per Article 3 (Corporate Purpose) in these Articles of Association and in any event those relating to the telecommunications sector.

They are elected as follows:

a) two Statutory Auditors and one Alternate Auditor are elected from the list receiving the most votes, in the order in which they appear on said list;

b) the third Statutory Auditor shall be the candidate for the related office in first place, among the Statutory Auditors, on the list which has received the most votes after the first, from among the lists presented and voted for by shareholders who are not connected, even indirectly, with the shareholders who have presented and voted for the list in first place due to number of votes;

c) the second Alternate Auditor shall be the candidate for the related office indicated as first, among the Alternate Auditors, on the same minority list indicated above.

In the event of equal votes between the lists presented and voted for by shareholders who are not connected, even indirectly, with the shareholders who have presented and voted for the list in first place due to number of votes, the candidate on the list which has been presented by shareholders in possession of the majority investment or, alternatively, by the highest number of shareholders, shall be elected.

The chairmanship of the Board of Statutory Auditors goes to the candidate for the office of Statutory Auditor in first place on the list which has received the most votes after the first, from among the lists presented and voted for by shareholders who are not connected, even indirectly, with the shareholders who have presented and voted for the list in first place due to number of votes;

c) the second Alternate auditor will be the candidate to the respective role indicated in first place, among the Alternate Auditors, in the same minority list referred to in the previous point.

In the event of equal votes between the lists presented and voted for by shareholders who are not connected, even indirectly, with the shareholders who have presented and voted for the list in first place due to number of votes, the candidate on the list which has been presented by shareholders in possession of the majority investment or, alternatively, by the highest number of shareholders, shall be elected.

The chairmanship of the Board of Statutory Auditors goes to the candidate for the office of Statutory Auditor in first place on the list which has received the most votes after the first, from among the lists presented and voted for by shareholders who are not connected, even indirectly, with the shareholders who have presented and voted for the list in first place due to number of votes.

If just one list is presented, the first three candidates in consecutive order shall be elected Statutory Auditors by majority, and the fourth and fifth candidates shall be appointed Alternate Auditors; the chairmanship of the Board of Statutory Auditors will go to the first candidate.

If the Board of Statutory Auditors elected as above does not permit the observance of the balance between genders envisaged by current legislation, the last members elected from the majority list of the gender represented the most fall from office in the number necessary to ensure the observance of the requirement and are replaced by the first candidates not elected on the same list of the gender represented the least. In the absence of candidates of the gender represented the least on the majority list in a number sufficient to go ahead with replacement, the aforementioned criteria will apply to the minority lists progressively voted for the most from which the elected candidates have been taken. If, applying the above criteria, it is not however possible to identify suitable replacements, the shareholders' meeting supplements the body with the legal majorities, ensuring the satisfaction of the requirement of the balance between genders envisaged by current legislation.

In the event of early termination of a Statutory Auditor from office, the same shall be replaced by the Alternate Auditor elected from among the candidates belonging to the same list as the Auditor no longer in office in observance of current legislation regarding balance between genders.

In observance of current legislation regarding the balance between genders, the shareholders' meeting takes steps to appoint the Statutory Auditors and Alternate Auditors necessary for supplementing the Board of Statutory Auditors following early termination from office, as follows:

a) if steps must be taken to replace Auditors elected from the majority list, the appointment takes place by majority vote, choosing from among the candidates on the list to which the Auditors to be replaced belonged, who at least ten days before the date fixed for the shareholders' meeting in first calling have confirmed their candidature, together with the declarations relating to the inexistence of causes of ineligibility or incompatibility, as well as the existence of the requisites of good standing and professionalism prescribed for the office by applicable legislation and the Articles of Association;

b) if, by contrast, steps must be taken to replace the Statutory Auditor appointed by the minority, the shareholders' meeting shall replace the same by majority vote, choosing from among the candidates on the list to which the Auditor to be replaced belonged, who at least ten days before the date fixed for the shareholders' meeting in first calling have confirmed their candidature, together with the declarations relating to the inexistence of causes of ineligibility or incompatibility, as well as the existence of the requisites of good standing and professionalism prescribed for the office by applicable legislation and the Articles of Association.

The new Auditors appointed fall from office together with those already in office.

The outgoing Auditors may be re-appointed.

Transactions with related parties

The Company approves the transactions with related parties in compliance with the legal and regulatory provisions in force, as well as its article of association provisions and the procedures adopted in this regard by the Company. The internal procedures adopted by the Company in relation to transactions with related parties may envisage that the Board of Directors approves the transactions of greatest importance despite the contrary opinion of the independent directors, provided that the performance of these transactions is authorised, as per Article 2364.1.5 of the Italian Civil Code, by the shareholders' meeting.

In the above circumstances, as well as in the cases where a resolution proposal to be submitted to the shareholders' meeting in relation to a significant transaction is approved in the presence of the contrary opinion of the independent directors, the meeting resolves with the majorities envisaged by law provided that, if the unrelated shareholders present during the meeting represent at least 10% of the share capital with the right to vote, the aforementioned legal majorities are achieved with the favourable vote of the majority of the unrelated shareholders voting during the meeting. The internal procedures adopted by the Company in relation to transactions with related parties may envisage the exclusion from their sphere of application of urgent transactions, also being the responsibility of the shareholders' meeting, within the limits permitted by applicable legal and regulatory provisions.
